MURDEROUS ASSAULT MAN WIELDED KNIFE

He Inflicted Several Dangerous Wounds on Young Man in Market Street—Assailant Arrested in Nashua, N. H.

Ahlias Kopristsotes, aged 19 years, was arrested in Nashua, N. H., early this morning and later brought to this city by Lieut. Maher and Patrolman Tzafarias, where he was charged with murderous assault upon a companion named Evangelos Pselkos, aged 19 years. The young man first mentioned gave the police one of the most difficult cases that they have experienced for some time as the whole upper Market street district was scoured during the early hours of this morning, and it was only after clever work on the part of both the local and Nashua police departments that he was traced to the latter city and placed under arrest.

The alleged assault occurred on Market street, near the corner of Palmer street, shortly before midnight, and Pselkos now lies at the Lowell Corporation hospital suffering from four deep wounds which, it is claimed, were caused by a knife in the hands of the man now under arrest.

According to the story told to the police, Kopristsotes formerly worked as a pin-boy in a local bowling alley, but last week gave up his job which was filled by his companion, Pselkos.

Last evening while the latter was at work, Kopristsotes hung around the premises and when the alley was locked up, the two aforementioned and a friend started for their homes via Central and Market streets.

As they were passing the Biscuit Cart Co. a dispute about the work arose and after a short discussion, it is claimed, Kopristsotes took a sharp knife from his pocket and stabbed Pselkos four times, once in the stomach and three times on the arms, while the third party stood by unable to stop the assault.

The affair occupied only a few minutes and the man who made the attack easily escaped while the young man who was not in the light was helping Pselkos to his feet. Together the pair walked up Market street, the injured man's wounds bleeding profusely and when he reached his home at 217 Market street, he sank into a chair and remained in a semi-conscious condition until the ambulance arrived and conveyed him to the Lowell hospital where the physicians worked over him for several hours. It was stated this forenoon that although one of the wounds is serious he was resting as comfortably as could be expected.

Meanwhile the matter was reported to the police and a squad of officers working under the direction of Lieut. Freeman and Sergts. Ryan and McLaughlin, were sent out to apprehend the culprit, but he evidently had made his escape immediately after the assault for all attempts to get on his tracks were fruitless. At the clock when the officers on the early night shift reported at the station they were sent out to search upper Market street and after a time the local officers learned that their man was acquainted in Nashua, N. H., and by co-operation with the up-country department, Ahlias Kopristsotes was arrested, charged with the assault.

Cargo of Antilla Falls Into Hands of Villa's Lieutenants—Report Villa Again in Full Power

EL PASO, Texas, June 18.—The success or failure of the constitutionalist cause depends upon a complete settlement of the difficulties between Gen. Carranza, political head of the Mexican revolutionists, and Gen. Villa, his chief military leader, in the opinion of prominent members of both factions here, who today anxiously awaited developments following the despatch last night of a joint appeal for harmony to both leaders.

The rumor that the cargo of the steamer Antilla, which was landed for the constitutionalists at Tampico a fortnight ago, had fallen into the hands of Villa's lieutenants, has served to intensify the feeling of uneasiness. With the belief general here in constitutionalist circles that the federalists at Zatecas have been reinforced recently, the hope of speedy capture of this important point is far from bright.

REPORTS AT WASHINGTON

SAY VILLA IS RESTORED

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Official information reaching the Washington government last night from American Consul Edwards at Juarez said Gen.

Francisco Villa and Gen. Venustiano Carranza, leaders of the constitutionalist movement in Mexico, had patched up their differences and Villa would proceed to take charge of the military movement against Zatecas, where the revolutionary forces recently met to reverse.

That Gen. Villa had determined upon a break with Carranza and had demonstrated his attitude by imprisoning some officers in Carranza's command was verified in reports to the state department yesterday.

It was declared, however, that Villa's action had served the purpose for which it was undertaken and that the conqueror of Torreon and Saltillo henceforth would command the military advance against Huerta without interruption.

Other official dispatches indicated that all the principal officers of the revolutionary movement sided with Villa. Among these, it was declared, was Gen. Felipe Angeles, Villa's chief of artillery, and prominently mentioned as a candidate for provisional president of Mexico.

According to the official dispatches, the difference between Carranza and Villa arose over the attack upon Zatecas. Gen. Carranza, it was stated, insisted that Gen. Natera should lead the assault and mapped out plans which Villa did not support. Villa claimed Carranza was being influenced by ambitious politicians and determined that the only way to meet the situation was to resign his commission as chief of the military forces in northern Mexico.

Carranza accepted his resignation and ordered Villa to Chihuahua to assume the military governorship of that state. Immediately it is said all Villa's subordinate officers revolted, insisting that the first chief had made a mistake. Carranza is said to have yielded and to have restored Villa to his command, with instructions to proceed.

According to the report, the Imperator struck during a fog early today. Up to noon, details were lacking.

LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY INTO BRIDGE DISASTER

Engineers on Scene This Morning Examining the Bridge—Strong Braces and Supports Being Put in to Make it Safe for Electric Cars—Condition of Injured Satisfactory

Representative Victor Francis Jewett will introduce an order in the legislature tomorrow asking for an investigation of the bridge disaster which occurred in this city yesterday. He may broaden the scope of the bill to include all bridges with footpaths on them.

To The Sun this morning, Mr. Jewett said: "I am going to ask for an investigation of the bridge disaster by the public service commission. I understand that the railroad has the control of the bridge and that the city is not getting anywhere to do with it. I feel that somebody has been very lax in this matter and I think the public safety should be made by the proper authorities. It ought to be described by some public authority, was erected at the expense of what was the direct cause of the trouble. It is a very serious matter and it was a miracle that several lives were not lost. If there are other bridges of a like nature they should be thoroughly examined."

Engineers on the Ground

W. W. Gage, engineer and superintendent of structures for the Boston & Maine, came to Lowell early this morning with three of his assistants and A. A. Burke, superintendent of bridges, to examine the bridge. The Boston & Maine authorities did not have any statement to make this forenoon, but it was announced that a statement would be forthcoming after the engineers had completed their examination.

Strengthening the Bridge

The tracks directly beneath the bridge in Chestnut street were the scene of great activity this morning and the most important piece of work had to do with the erection of an upright support to the bridge. A beam, which was a piece of iron, was placed under the bridge and the track nearest the Appleton street side extended to one of the big iron beams overhead and it was stated that after the beam had been thoroughly secured the bridge would be safe for cars, and it is expected that the Chestnut street and Westford street cars will be using the bridge as usual before the late afternoon. The street railway company, however, will not attempt to run its cars across the bridge until its engineers have said that the bridge is safe and all right.

Still Repairing Bridge

Comrades of those injured yesterday are doing the same work today, but they have nothing to fear so far as falling houses are concerned. Eight or ten bridge workers are riveting under the bridge. Up among the iron beams is a riveting force using full blast and from one side of the tunnel to the other heavy bolts are shot into the network of iron. It is a pretty game and the pitcher and catcher in this instance must be even more accurate than the big league ball players. The men working there today were singing and whistling as though nothing had ever happened. It is expected that the work of repairing the bridge will be completed this week.

Are Stairs Dangerous?

Are the stairs leading from Chestnut street to the station platform perfectly safe? This question was asked a railroad official from Boston and he replied by asking: "Are you a railroad man?" The railroad official's interrogator replied that he was not a railroad man and had no desire to become a railroad man, but he allowed that the stairway didn't look any too safe to him. The railroad official gave one of these sarcastically compassionate chuckles and murmured "forget it." As a matter of fact the stairway does not look any too good, but railroad men and others said it was safe enough.

Big Stock in Store

The little store that took so quick a tumble yesterday morning was well stocked. The exact weight of the stock will probably never be determined, but more than a carload of Mr. Barlow's goods were picked up after the accident. Mr. Barlow never received instructions as how much weight the store supports would carry and he did not have any bigger stock in the store yesterday than usual. He has always carried a pretty big stock, a very large stock, in fact, for so small a store, but the accident was not due to the weight of the goods in the store.

Closets Came Out All Right

Quite a number of strange things happened in connection with the bridge accident yesterday, but the story of the big glass cigar case and its contents beats 'em all. The cigar case went down, of course, with the building and the glass case was the last thing that Mr. Barlow or anybody else expected would be recovered, but it was, and strange to relate the only injury to it was the breaking of the glass at one end. With the exception of the broken end the case was as good as new and the cigars had not been disturbed in any way. Just how it happened nobody can tell.

Has Made No Plans

Mr. Barlow stated this morning that he had not made any definite plans for the future. He will have to consult with the Boston & Maine railroad before he can decide upon what to do. It has been stated that in all probability the Boston & Maine will not build another house on the bridge. Mr. Barlow has been offered the use of the lawn on the George estate across the street until such time as he gets straightened out and the chances are he will erect a tent there.

Condition of Injured

The reports from the injured at St. John's hospital are very encouraging. Joseph Delair, who was very seriously injured, is in a semi-conscious condition but the doctors are confident he will recover. Wilber Tremblay, Mark J. Broderick, Sylvia Bellevue, Ernest Delude and Herman Lemire are all reported as quite comfortable.

At the Lowell hospital, the doctors spoke very encouragingly of Edward Bouchard, one of the boys who went down with the store.

William Corby is also doing nicely today so that all are out of danger except Delair.

AT NOTRE DAME

Beautiful Exhibition of Artistic Embroidery Worked by Pupils

Those who were fortunate enough to see the beautiful exhibition of fancy work held in the studio of Notre Dame academy yesterday will long remember its variety, its excellence of design and workmanship, its harmonious blending of colors and its artistic arrangement. All around the sides of the large room samples of exquisite handwork were displayed in lavish profusion and some of the more important pieces were exhibited on extra tables in the centre. Notre Dame has always been noted for its teaching of embroidery and kindred arts and it strives to perpetuate the best in the old methods while keeping abreast of the times. The exhibition of yesterday was, therefore, of especial interest to those who make a hobby of needlework, but apart from the technical excellence anyone with an eye for

AN ATTEMPT TO KILL EMPEROR OF RUSSIA

Bomb Placed on Rail in Front of Russian Imperial Train—Postal Train Struck Bomb and Caused it to Explode—Several Injured

BERLIN, June 18.—A special despatch from St. Petersburg says an attempt was made to wreck the Russian Imperial train with the emperor and his family on board near Tschudovo today, when a bomb was placed on the rail.

A postal train which was preceding the imperial train as a pilot struck the bomb and caused it to explode. Many of the coaches of the mail train were shattered and several persons were injured.

The emperor and his family on the imperial train passed the spot a few minutes later and arrived at Tsarko-Selo without further incident.

They were on the way from Kishinev on the return journey from their recent visit to King Charles of Rumania at Kustendje.

the beautiful or an appreciation of the artistic would find a great deal to admire in the delicate creations of the Notre Dame pupils.

Some of the most beautiful specimens were done in the now fashionable flat work in which the design is raised in colors on a net foundation. Representing this branch of embroidery were delicate scarves in roses and conventional design and some beautiful sofa pillows. Of the other colored embroidery the most delicately beautiful specimens were those done in the tapestry cross stitch, some samples of which looked like the old fashioned samplers done in the subtle shadings of Dresden china. There were also some lovely examples of decorative colored embroidery, of eyelet and raised work in pure white linen, solid crochet embroidery, samplers, and plain sewing.

One beautiful lunch piece by Marion Kelly in raised decoration and delicately finished eyelet design is valued at $200. Another lunch set deserving special mention was that of Mary Bulger who also had a dainty negligee set, including boudoir cap, kimono and slippers. She also displayed some fine guest towels. Her sister, Margaret Bulger, contributed some artistic pillows in flat embroidery.

One of the most attractive exhibits was a lunch set in white edged with old blue, the work of Miss Beesle Harrigan. The combination of colors was most decorative and the finish was extremely delicate. Miss Harrigan also had some excellently designed pillows, one being in soft blue and gold.

Marion Schantz worked a beautiful lunch set in a berry design, some pillows and a dainty baby set consisting of coat, bonnet and slippers. Thoroughly, the exhibit was of unusual excellence and Notre Dame had good reason to be proud of its teaching as reflected in the high class work of its pupils.

FIND BLIND SINGER DEAD

MISS HELEN MESOW, FRIEND OF HELEN KELLER, WAS AN ACCOMPLISHED MUSICIAN

OAKLAND, Cal., June 18.—Miss Helen Mesow, a soprano singer, was found dead on a couch in her apartment here early yesterday. The cause of death has not been determined. Miss Mesow was blind. A physician said that a spoon found in the bathroom smelled strongly of a quick-acting poison. On a table near the couch was a card bearing the name of W. C. Bohrmann, an Oakland real estate agent. The card contained this pencilled message: "Helen, 6 p. m. Wanted you to come to dinner this evening, as it is our last night.—W. C. B."

Miss Mesow was educated in the California Institute for the Deaf and Blind and at the University of California. Afterward she pursued vocal studies in Paris. Besides being a musician she was a proficient linguist. She was about 26 years old and was a friend of Miss Helen Keller.

LUCKY BOY.

Little Vincent, in company with his favorite playmates, had been gleefully pranking in boyish fashion, when, unexpectedly the voice of his mother was heard calling—Vincent! "Yes, mother," was the quick response of little Vincent, "I'll come right along." And as Vincent emerged from the vacant lot which adjoins his father's house, his good mother admonished him in his forgetfulness to perform an errand she had earlier dispatched him with to Coburn's. "Well, I'm sorry mother," replied Vincent, manfully, "but I will go at once." "No," interrupted his mother, "you needn't bother now, for I have decided to phone the order to Coburn's."

Shortly afterwards, one of Coburn's Lippard-Stewart Delivery Cars, noiselessly entered the driveway and the goods which Mrs. Wisely had ordered, were delivered at the back door. Upon reflection, Mrs. Wisely was just as well pleased that she hadn't given Vincent such a journey on that hot day, so when Vincent's father returned home that evening he was not apprised of the little fellow's negligence.

CAN WRECK BIG LEAGUES

FEDERAL LEAGUE CAN TAKE ALL PLAYERS WHO ASK TO JOIN OUTLAWS

CHICAGO, June 17.—The Federal League can wreck from a playing standpoint the two big leagues within 30 days if it cares to sign all the players who have asked to be taken over, according to a statement here today by James A. Gilmore, president of the federals. Gilmore repeated his statement that 10 players are ready to leave National and American leagues but would not say how many of them would be absorbed at this time.

The Chicago American league team which so far has escaped the Federal raids intact, will lose other players besides Chase, who will play his last game in a White Sox uniform a week from tomorrow. Scott, Russell, Weaver, Reus and Blalock are players the White Sox will lose, according to the report.

LOCAL NEWS

Miss Grace Amelia Crockett of North Chelmsford, a member of the graduating class of the Women's College of Brown University, Providence, R. I., has been awarded final honors in the department of mathematics.

House 8 responded to a still alarm yesterday for a fire in a pile of rags and papers in the ledge on Fletcher street. The blaze was quickly extinguished.

WEED STREET SCHOOL

The teachers of the Weed street school, Miss McEvoy, Miss Usher and Miss Devine, have made a specialty this year of a vegetable garden which occupies about half the yard at the rear of the school. The land is divided off into sections, each teacher having her allotted share for the scholars of her room. Here are planted all kinds of vegetables, peas, beans, potatoes, cabbage, squash, turnip, beets, tomatoes and carrots. One little scholar, Miss Barbara O'Brien, has quite a crop of potatoes ready for hoeing. It has been the aim of the teachers to plant only vegetables that will spring up before the school term is over.

In this they have been successful for at the present writing nearly all of the peas planted have been picked and the crop measures up to about four bushels. The tomato plants are the pride of the whole district. These have been sold to the residents about the school and persons residing in nearly every part of the city. These plants are of the finest species grown. Seeds are now being sown that will not yield before the fall. The school-ars of the school will take care of the land until the school season reopens. In each room a park comalsoloner and park board, consisting of scholars, have been chosen by the teachers and these youngsters will oversee the work. The preeminent feature of the scheme, according to the teachers, is that it teaches the little boys and girls self-restraint. A case has not been reported during the present school term where a flower has been trampled upon or a vegetable stolen by one of the scholars. The pupils are very proud of their garden as they call it, and are always on the alert to guard against anything that will be detrimental to it. The pupils have home gardens also and a prize will be awarded in the fall to the scholar showing the best results. C. O. Morion, of the state board of agriculture, and a member of the faculty of Amherst college will come to this city and inspect the work of the future land fillers. Much credit must be given to the teachers of the school who have labored untiringly after school hours for the success of this plan, and it must be a source of enjoyment to them to see what success has been accomplished.

A series of continued talks appearing in this newspaper—follow it daily as it will be greatly to your advantage if you are a sufferer of mouth, teeth or gum trouble of any description.

TODAY'S TALK:

THE DANGER POINT IN PYORRHEA

We examine the mouth of a horse before purchasing it, see if its teeth are sound and healthy for we know that poor teeth will prevent its proper development. The same is true the human being. If the teeth and gums are diseased, the entire organism suffers. The reason for this lies in the impossibility must be well chewed and mixed with the saliva before it enters the stomach if digestion is to be efficiently carried out. If it is not so prepared the stomach is over-worked in that it must attempt the duties that should have been performed by the teeth. It can therefore be seen that Pyorrhea directly causes Indigestion. In countless cases, for indigestion is always the result of overworking the stomach.

But indigestion is not the only ailment rising from improperly masticated food. Such food does not proceed onward, but it

Every mouthful of food improperly masticated by loose decayed teeth takes with it into the stomach millions of the poisonous microbes which infest diseased teeth. A large quantity of the pus exuding from the ailing gums is also swallowed. The food, thus being literally alive with poison the disease germs quickly attack the system which, already impoverished, offers but little resistance. As a result the victim falls prey to disease. As has already been shown, stomach trouble directly arises from this cause. In addition to it, the ailments which the majority of physicians realize as being most frequently a result of conditions brought on by Pyorrheal infection are loss of appetite, nervousness, sleeplessness, anemia, typhoid, consumption, pneumonia, kidney trouble, bowel trouble, catarrh and headaches.

There are many more in addition to these. In fact there are few ailments in the entire calendar of human diseases which gums. Particularly is this true of obscure ailments difficult to locate or classify, but which sap the vitality and cause that worn-out, listless condition which physicians find almost impossible to overcome.

MURDEROUS ASSAULT MAN WIELDED KNIFE

He Inflicted Several Dangerous Wounds on Young Man in Market Street—Assailant Arrested in Nashua, N. H.

Achilles Coprichentis, aged 19 years, was arrested in Nashua, N. H., early this morning and later brought to this city by Lieut. Maher, and Patrolman Tsafaras, where he was charged with murderous assault upon a companion named Evangelos Peikos, aged 19 years. The young man first mentioned gave the police one of the most difficult cases that they have experienced for some time as the whole upper Market street district was scoured during the early hours of this morning and it was only after clever work on the part of both the local and Nashua police departments that he was traced to the latter city and placed under arrest.

The alleged assault occurred on Market street, near the corner of Palmer street, shortly before midnight, and Jackson now lies at the Lowell Corporation hospital suffering from four deep wounds which, it is claimed, were caused by a knife in the hands of the man now under arrest.

According to the story told to the police, Coprichentis formerly worked as pin-boy in a local bowling alley, but last week gave up his job which was filled by his companion, Peikos. Last evening while the latter was at work, Coprichentis hung around the premises and when the alley was locked up, the two aforementioned and a friend started for their homes via Central and Market streets.

As they neared the Bowdoin Carpet Co., a dispute about the work arose and after a short discussion, it is claimed, Coprichentis took a sharp knife from his pocket and stabbed Peikos four times, once in the stomach and three times on the arms, while the third party stood by unable to stop the assault.

The affray occupied only a few minutes and the man who made the attack easily escaped while the young man who was not in the fight was helping Peikos to his feet. Together the pair walked up Market street, the injured man's wounds bleeding profusely and when he reached his home at 217 Market street, he sank into a chair and remained in a semi-conscious condition until the ambulance arrived and conveyed him to the Lowell hospital where the physicians worked over him for several hours. It was stated this forenoon that although one of the wounds is serious he was resting as comfortably as could be expected.

Meanwhile the matter was reported to the police and a squad of officers, working under the direction of Lieut. Freeman and Sergts. Ryan and McClellan, were sent out to apprehend the culprit, but he evidently had made his escape immediately after the assault for all attempts to get on his tracks were fruitless. At 12:30 o'clock when the officers on the early night shift reported at the station they were sent out to search upper Market street and after a time the local officers learned that their man was acquainted in Nashua, N. H., and by co-operation with the up-country department Achilles Coprichentis was arrested, charged with the assault.

Walked to Lakeview

It seems that after the assault occurred Coprichentis and a companion named Christopher Pappas walked to a house on Coldidge street, occupied by a relative of the latter and remained there until about 1 o'clock this morning when they arose and walked through Alken avenue to Lakeview park, while the police were hunting the streets and searching property in upper Market street.

Hardly had the two reached Lakeview when a Nashua bound car approached and the man suspected of committing the assault boarded the car.

Supreme Court Decides Against Yates, Trautman, Bedard and Shaheen, Ruling That the Money Contributed During Textile Strike Constituted a Public Charitable Trust

The court ordered William Yates, Joseph Bedard, William Trautman and Joseph Shaheen, members of the committee, to pay to the clerk of the supreme court $2500 with interest and also ordered Bedard, Trautman and Shaheen to pay an additional sum of $3573, representing money received by them and not accounted for.

LEGISLATIVE INQUIRY INTO BRIDGE DISASTER

Engineers on Scene This Morning Examining the Bridge—Strong Braces and Supports Being Put in to Make it Safe for Electric Cars—Condition of Injured Satisfactory

Representative Victor Francis Jewett will introduce an order in the legislature tomorrow asking for an investigation by the public service commission of the railroad overhead bridge accident in this city yesterday.

Mr. Jewett said: "I am going to ask for an investigation of the bridge accident by the public service commission. I understand that the railroad has the entire control of the bridge and that the city has nothing whatever to do with it. I feel that somebody has been very lax in this matter and I think the strictest inquiry should be made by the proper authorities. It ought to be ascertained by what right a building was erected on the bridge and what was the direct cause of the trouble. It is a very serious affair and it was a miracle that several lives were not lost. If there are other bridges of a like nature they should be thoroughly examined."

Engineers on the Ground
B. W. Guppy, engineer and superintendent of structures for the Boston & Maine, came to Lowell early this morning with three of his assistants and A. A. Paige, supervisor of bridges. Other engineers were expected to arrive later. The Boston & Maine authorities did not have any statement to make this forenoon, but it was announced that a statement would be forthcoming after the engineers had completed their examination.

Strengthening the Bridge
The trucks directly beneath the bridge in Chelmsford street were the scene of great activity this morning and the most important piece of work had to do with the erection of an upright support to the bridge. A beam having its foundation on the track nearest the Appleton street side extended to one of the big iron beams overhead and it was stated that after the beam had been thoroughly secured the bridge would be safe for cars, and it is expected that the street cars will be using the bridge as usual before the late afternoon. The street railway company, however, will not attempt to run its cars across the bridge until its engineers have said that the bridge is safe and all right.

Still Repairing Bridge
Comrades of those injured yesterday are doing the same work today, but they have nothing to fear so far as falling houses are concerned. Eight or ten bridge workers are riveting under the bridge. Up among the iron beams is a riveting force going full blast. Appleton street side of the tunnel to the other side hole are shot across through the network of iron. It's a pretty game and the pincer and catcher in this instance must be even more accurate than the big league ball-players. The men working there today were singing and whistling as though nothing had ever happened. It is expected that the work of repairing the bridge will be completed this week.

Are Stairs Dangerous?
Are the stairs leading from Chelmsford street to the station platform perfectly safe? This question was asked a railroad official from Boston and he replied by asking: "Are you a railroad man?" The railroad official's interrogator replied that he was not a railroad man and had no desire to become a railroad man, but he allowed that the stairway didn't look any too safe to him. The railroad official gave one of those fearfully compassionate chuckles and murmured "forget it." As a matter of fact the stairway does not look any too good, but railroad men and others said it was safe enough.

Big Stock in Store
The little store that took so quick a tumble yesterday morning was well stocked. The exact weight of the tin, but more than a carload of Mr. Barlow's goods were picked up after the accident. Mr. Barlow never received instructions as how much weight

USE FLEX-OIL ON THE FEET

VILLA SENDS DEMANDS TO GENERAL CARRANZA

Ultimatum Demanding an Absolute Separation of Military and Civil Branches of Constitutionalist Government

EAGLE PASS, Texas, June 18.—That General Villa had presented an ultimatum to General Carranza demanding an absolute separation of the military and civil branches of the constitutional government was the substance of despatches received at constitutional headquarters in Piedras Negras today. A committee of three officers was said now to be in conference with General Carranza at Saltillo presenting Villa's plan.

WASHINGTON OFFICIALS ARE MORE DOUBTFUL

WASHINGTON, June 18.—While officials said today they still had hopes of a successful outcome of the mediation at Niagara Falls, they were more doubtful than they have been at any time, probably since the conference began.

Officials close to the president feel that General Carranza's published note yesterday disclosed anew that the Mexican delegates are consistently holding out for a Huerta adherent for the provisional presidency, despite the fact that many such men have been mentioned as neutrals.

President Wilson is equally determined in his view that unless a man approved by the constitutionalists is chosen the new provisional government will be in trouble from the outset.

DENY LINER IN DISTRESS

A despatch from London this morning stated that the great Hamburg-American liner Imperator, with over 1500 passengers aboard went ashore on the Isle of Wight. This report was later denied in a second despatch which is appended.

LONDON, June 18.—There is no truth in the report from Bournemouth that the Hamburg-American liner Imperator has grounded on the Isle of Wight.

AN ASSAULT CASE

The case of John Sloez, charged with assault and battery upon Patrick Gleason, occupied considerable time at this morning's session of police court and after the evidence was presented Justice Enright found the defendant guilty and ordered him to pay a fine of $20. The young man paid despite the fact that Joseph O'Connor, his counsel, advised him to appeal.

According to the complaint he was walking through Bent's court about 11 o'clock last Saturday night when two men ran up behind him and struck him on the forehead, knocking him to the ground. He claims that the other man kicked him several times and then tried to make their escape but the witness said he grabbed one by the leg and held him until a friend, Joseph McDonald, came to the rescue and brought him to an officer.

The witness stated that he could give no reason why he was attacked by the two men unless they mistook him for some other person. He said he was sure the man he held was John Sloez and he saw his other assailant run into a building, but could not identify him now.

Joseph McDonald testified that he left Mr. Gleason at the corner of Garban street and Bent's court but had only walked a few feet when his attention was attracted by the complainant's shouting. He then went into the court and held onto him until Patrolman Noonan appeared on the scene and then he was taken to the station. Patrolman Noonan said that he was called to the spot and Gleason told him that he had been assaulted. He pointed out Sloez as the man who committed the offense and as the latter was drunk placed him under arrest.

The defendant stated that when he saw the crowd running in the court he followed and had hardly been there more than a few minutes when he was approached by the officer. He denied that anyone held him until the officer arrived. His story was corroborated by two other witnesses.

Lawyer O'Connor argued at length for the discharge of his client but the Honor said that he could not believe the defendant's story and he imposed a fine of $20.

Laurence Charge
John Hughes pleaded not guilty to a complaint charging him with larceny of $20, a pair of shoes valued at $2.50 and a suit case valued at $1.40, all the property of one James Fennes of Lowell. It is alleged that he entered the defendant's home and stole the articles. Deputy District Attorney John Hughes was arrested in Boston Tuesday and brought to Lowell yesterday. He asked that the case be continued until Saturday so that the complainant, who is now in New Hampshire, could be notified of the arrest.

Trifle Rules
Arthur Deziel was arraigned charged with violating the city ordinance by allowing a wagon to remain standing on Merrimack street, between John street and the Concord river, for more than 24 hours. The defendant denied any knowledge of the law regarding this matter and stated that he was not aware just how long his vehicle remained on the street. The court found him guilty and imposed a fine of $3.

A four months' sentence to the house of correction was imposed on John Tesser for failing to respectfully support his wife and minor children. Mrs. Tesser testified that her husband had been away for some time and had contributed but little toward the household expenses for some time. As he was on probation at the time of his arrest he was given a short sentence.

Philip Moriarty promised never to abuse his wife again when called to answer to a charge of assault and battery upon his wife, Mary, and after giving the matter due consideration Justice Enright ordered a suspended sentence of six months at the house of correction.

One woman was sent to jail for drunkenness while two men were given sentences to the state farm for the same offense.

FIND BLIND SINGER DEAD

MISS HELEN MESOW, FRIEND OF
HELEN KELLER, WAS AN ACCOMPLISHED MUSICIAN

OAKLAND, CAL., June 18.—Miss Helen Mesow, a soprano singer, was found dead on a couch in her apartment here early yesterday. The cause of death has not been determined. Miss Mesow was blind. A physician said that a spoon found in the bathroom smelled strongly of a quick-acting poison. On a table near the couch was a card bearing the name of W. C. Dohmann, an Oakland real estate agent. The card contained this penciled message: "Helen, 6 p. m. Wanted you to come to dinner this evening as it is our last night. W. C. D." Mrs. E. Stone of Melrose, an aunt of Dohmann, said that she and Dohmann left the note at the apartment Sunday.

Miss Mesow was educated in the California Institute for the Deaf and Blind and at the University of California. Afterward she pursued vocal studies in Paris. Besides being a musician she was a proficient linguist. She was about 30 years old and was a friend of Miss Helen Keller.

Cargo of Antilla Falls Into Hands of Villa's Lieutenants—Report Villa Again in Full Power

EL PASO, Texas, June 15.—The success or failure of the constitutionalist cause depends upon a complete settlement of the difficulties between the Carranza, political head of the Mexican revolutionists, and Gen. Villa, his chief military leader, in the opinion of prominent members of both factions here, who today anxiously awaited developments following the despatch last night of a joint appeal for harmony to both leaders.

SAY VILLA IS RESTORED

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Official information reaching the Washington government last night from American sources at Juarez, said Gen. Francisco Villa and Gen. Venustiano Carranza, leaders of the constitutionalist movement in Mexico, had patched up their differences and Villa would proceed to take charge of the military operations against Zacoatecas, where the revolutionary forces recently met reverses.

That Gen. Villa had determined upon a truce with Carranza and had demonstrated the attitude by impressing some orders in Carranza's command was verified in reports to the state department yesterday.

It was declared, however, that Villa's action had served the purpose for which it was intended and that the Carranza-Villa truce was a temporary measure.

Other official dispatches indicated that all the principal officers of the revolutionary movement sided with Villa. Among these it was declared, was Gen. Felipe Angeles, Villa's chief of artillery, and prominently mentioned as a candidate for provisional president of Mexico.

According to the official dispatches the difference between Carranza and Villa arose over the attack upon Zacoatecas. Gen. Carranza, it was stated, insisted that Gen. Natera should lead the assault and mapped out plans which Villa did not support. Villa, Carranza was being influenced by ambitious politicians and determined that the only way to meet the situation was to resign his commission as chief of the military forces in northern Mexico.

Carranza accepted his resignation and ordered Villa to Chihuahua to assume the military command of that state. In response, it is said, all Villa's subordinates, except one, insisted that the chief had made a mistake. Carranza is said to have yielded and to have restored Villa to his command, with instructions to proceed.

ODD MOMENTS IN FINAL POLO GAME WHEN ENGLAND TOOK THE CUP FROM AMERICA

1-CAPTAIN CHEAPE'S HORSE HELPS OUT 2-A CLOSE SCRIMMAGE

English polo ponies proved to be trained up to top speed in the international match, which was so derisively won by the British army officers. One of the horses used by Captain Cheape in the final game unconsciously aided his rider by knocking the ball forward with his foreleg during a lively chase, as shown in one of these pictures. Another odd picture during the final contest is also shown, the ball being momentarily lost beneath the ponies' hoofs. The horses appear to be almost standing still, but this ball was only for the fraction of a second, the next minute seeing riders and animals in a whirl of exciting play.

Beautiful Exhibition of Artistic Embroidery Worked by Pupils

Those who were fortunate enough to see the beautiful exhibition of fancy work held in the studio of Notre Dame academy yesterday will long remember its variety, its excellence of design and workmanship, its harmonious blending of colors and its artistic arrangement. All around the sides of the large room samples of exquisite handwork were displayed in lavish profusion and some of the more important pieces were exhibited on extra tables in the center. Notre Dame has always been noted for its teaching of embroidery and kindred arts and it strives to perpetuate the best in the old methods while keeping abreast of the times. The exhibition of yesterday was, therefore, of especial interest to those who make a hobby of needlework, but apart from the technical excellence anyone with an eye for the beautiful or an appreciation of the artistic would find a great deal to admire in the delicate creations of the Notre Dame pupils.

Some of the most beautiful specimens were done in the new fashionable silk work in which the design is raised in colors on a net foundation. Representing this branch of embroidery were delicate scarves in roses and conventional design and some beautiful soft pillows. Of the other colored embroidery the most delicately beautiful specimens were those done in the tapestry cross stitch, some samples of which looked like the old fashioned samplers done in the subtle shadings of Dresden china. There were also some lovely examples of decorative colored embroidery, of eyelet and raised work in pure white linen, solid crochet embroidery, samplers, and plain sewing.

One beautiful lunch piece by Marion Kelly in raised decoration and delicately finished eyelet design is valued at $200. Another lunch set deserving special mention was that of Mary Baker who also had a dainty negligee set, including bodice cap, kimono and slippers. She also displayed some fine guest towels. Her sister, Margaret Baker, contributed some artistic pillows in net embroidery.

One of the most attractive exhibits was a lunch set in white edged with old blue, the work of Miss Bessie Harrigan. The combination of colors was most decorative and the finish was extremely delicate. Miss Harrigan also had some excellently designed pillows, one being in soft blue and gold.

Agnes King contributed one of the many beautiful table scarves and Miss Marion Schantz worked a beautiful lunch set in a berry design, some pillows and a dainty baby set consisting of coat, bonnet and slippers. Thoroughly out, the exhibit was of unusual excellence and Notre Dame had good reason to be proud of its teaching as reflected in the high class work of its pupils.

SEN. LODGE AT HARVARD

Says Existing Problems Must Find Solution Through Knowledge of Past and Judgment of Present

CAMBRIDGE, June 15.—Existing problems, social and governmental, "must find their solution through a knowledge of the past and a cool judgment of the present," United States Senator Henry Cabot Lodge told the members of the Harvard Alumni association in his address as presiding officer at the annual meeting today. Mr. Lodge said in part:

"Just now we have with us one of the recurrent periods when the world is filled with reforms, largely destructive and punitive in character, generally of that most attractive kind which claims at making some one other than themselves virtuous by process of law. There is all about us a widespread desire to elevate the moral or material condition of others. To all such propositions the university must give admission for purposes of study. The university must look upon them with attention and examine them not merely in the hope but by the clear light of the past before she decides that they are fit for the ordeal of the future and will prove a benefit to mankind.

"The university must not in its eagerness to be in sympathy with the present, which is so evanescent that some philosophers deny its existence, forget that the future is built upon the past and that a house without any foundations is more unstable even than the one which rests upon the shifting sands. The university must always be the searcher for truth but it is wise to bear in mind that while it is well to hold fast to truth, mere holding fast and positiveness of assertion do not demonstrate a truth. Truth is not proved either by novelty or by age alone.

"Just now, to take a very present example, it is the fashion to assail the constitution of the United States. Before we overthrow the constitution it is well to understand it, to know its principles, to learn its history, to determine whether the changes proposed represent progress or a return to earlier and rejected forms upon which the constitution made a great advance. These questions are not to be settled by wild denunciations of existing wrongs, all curable by law under the constitution, if curable at all by government action, still less can they be settled by appeals to an unknown future. They must find their solution through a knowledge of the past and a cool judgment of the present."

OLD MEXICAN WAR FLAG

WASHINGTON, June 15.—Considerable interest was aroused in marine circles here yesterday by the discovery of three old flags in the attic of the commandant's house, one of which was made by a Boston man about the time of the first Mexican war.

Two of the flags were simply the national colors, but one was more in nature of a banner. The original size was about six by eight feet; it must have been of green silk; and in the center was a circle design about four feet in diameter, and emblematic of the Marine Corps. In the center and enclosed in a scroll is a blue field containing 13 stars; in a circle an eagle and an anchor; on one side at the bottom is a stack of rifles, on the other a field piece; in a central position in scroll work are the words "By land and by sea."

This unique banner is further decorated by more scroll work in gold, painted flowers, dolphins, red coral and sea shells.

Practically nothing but the central work, which is protected by paint, remains. On one side in small letters, in the Marine Corps, the name, "Jas. Burr, Boston." A careful search is being made to find out when the flag was made and any other history concerning it.

It probably was made between 1845 and 1850, just after the first Mexican war, but the words "From Tripoli to the Hills of Montezuma" are of entirely different pattern than the other lettering.

The publicity pamphlet just issued by the Marine Corps contains a poem entitled "The Marine's Home," the first two lines of which read: "From the halls of Montezuma to the shores of Tripoli," obviously derived from the old quotation on the flag.

SOCIETY LEADER, SAVED FROM TITANIC WITH HUSBAND, SECURES DIVORCE

PHILADELPHIA, June 15.—Society here, in New York, Newport, Washington, Baltimore and London is wondering if pretty, vivacious and dashing original Mrs. William E. Carter, just secretly divorced from her husband, will marry again. The couple were saved from the Titanic disaster with their two children in the same lifeboat with Mrs. John Jacob Astor. As Lucille Polk, daughter of an old Baltimore family and granddaughter of ex-President Polk, who was one of the beauties of the small but distinguished home coterie. She was the belle of the famous "Brass Band" of which Harry Lehr was a member and was one of "The Three Graces." Miss Louise Morris and Miss Edith Jones being the others. Lively, but harmless and always original, pranks marked the proceedings of the "Brass Band." The story is still told of the daintiest of the "Graces" walking home after a party with the others and darning them to waste in the fountain in Monument square. She alone did it. When she met young William E. Carter, dashing polo player and yachtsman, using his vast fortune in healthy pleasure, the conquest was mutual and instant. Their marriage was a brilliant one. Philadelphia society was the first conquest of the bride. Her fascinating entertainments, speed with new ideas, were irresistible. Newport found them so. England as well. Mrs. Carter is noted athlete herself. She was the first woman to play polo riding astride and the first woman to drive a four-in-hand through crowded Thames at

LAST POLO CONTEST DESCRIBED AS GREATEST GAME EVER PLAYED HERE

A RACE DOWN THE FIELD © 1914 AMERICAN PRESS ASSOCIATION

Polo authorities who saw the final contest between the English and American teams say that it was the greatest game of polo ever played in this country if not in the world. The invaders' wonderful team work and smooth playing won for them, as both teams scored the same number of goals, but the English lost only one point through penalties to two and a quarter points less for the Americans. Devereux Milburn and Captain Barrett were the stars of the game, Milburn playing the best of his career in spite of a cracked rib.

Under date of June 11th R. & O. Lindemann received the following cable from their Alexandria office:

"During the past week our market has shown the effects of the Egyptian government report. The advance in Egyptian cotton, however, has not kept pace with the rise in American. We consider present prices comparatively cheap, particularly so far as the still declining on the spot market."

Although the cotton crop is generally about a normal yield, the condition of the crop, as a whole, looks well.

Under date of June 11th the cotton receipts at port were 5,552 bales, against 4,251 in the same week last year. Since Sept. 1 the receipts at port were 3,387,459 bales, against 3,315,526 last year. The interior receipts for the week were 20,625 bales, against 15,221 last year. The interior receipts since Sept. 1 have been 2,063,521 bales, against 1,647,411 last year. The amount brought into sight for the week last year was 2,063,521 bales, against 1,647,411 last year. The northern spinners' share for the week was 24,852 bales, against 20,625 last year. The southern spinners' share for the week was 24,852 bales, against 20,625 last year.

This deal is instrumental in bringing the boy's father and mother together and, incidentally, it brings the only son a wife. It is a gripping drama, well acted and scenically all that could be desired. It is in five parts and 125 persons participate in it. In addition to this there are two other reels of pictures and new songs by Samuel Wallace, a well known tenor. Admission is 10 cents, with a few seats reserved at 15 cents. FIND BLIND SINGER DEAD

OAKLAND, Cal., June 15.—Miss Helen Mesow, a soprano singer, was found dead on a couch in her apartment here early yesterday. The cause of death has not been determined. Miss Mesow was blind. A physician said that a spoon found in the bathroom smelled strongly of a quick-acting poison.

On a table near the couch was a card bearing the name of W. C. Bohmann, an Oakland real estate agent. The card contained this perished message: "Helen, I am here. Wanted you to come to dinner this evening, as it is our last night—W. C. B."

Mrs. E. Stige of Melrose, an aunt of Bohmann, said that she and Bohmann left the note at the apartment Sunday.

Miss Mesow was educated in the California Institute for the Deaf and Blind and at the University of California. Afterward she pursued vocal studies in Paris. Besides being a musician she was a proficient pianist. She was about 30 years old and was a friend of Miss Helen Keller.

AUTO RAN AWAY; FIVE HURT

PROVIDENCE, R. I., June 15.—Five men were hurt, one probably fatally, when a heavily laden automobile coal truck ran away down South Court street hill yesterday. The brakes of the truck failed to work. Frederick Allard, 26, driver of the truck, is in Rhode Island hospital with internal injuries. His condition is critical. In its wild flight the truck demolished an express wagon, and was itself badly wrecked when it dashed into and jettisoned an electric light pole at the foot of the hill.

NEW YORK, June 18. Great Armenian Procession Follows Seven Caskets in Milford—Business Places Closed

MILFORD, June 18.—With one of the most impressive funeral services ever seen in Milford, the seven Armenian victims of the fire of Tuesday were yesterday buried in Vernon Grove cemetery, in lots bought by George Albert Draper, treasurer of the Draper company.

Owners of business places showed respect by drawing curtains and suspending work so far as possible, and the streets were lined with sympathetic spectators. The long procession moved toward the cemetery about 11:30, after the Armenian ritual services had been held in Trinity Episcopal church. The scenes at the cemetery during the committal services, extended as they were by the eulogies in Armenian by three speakers, after the burial ritual, were especially solemn.

The bodies were escorted by more than 200 members of the Armenian colony to the church, where the seven caskets were placed before the altar and the Armenian church funeral service was conducted by Rev. Vaharian Nazanian, pastor of the Church of Our Savior, Worcester.

There was no singing, and in addition to the service conducted by Rev. Mr. Nazanian, Rev. A. J. Watson, rector of Trinity, made an address of sympathy, and announced that he should hold special services in memory of the departed next Sunday, to which all friends of the deceased were welcome. After the extended church service the line of march was taken up for the cemetery, traversing Congress, Pine, Main, South Main and Depot streets.

Six caskets were carried in an auto truck and covered by American flags. Escorting the auto were these bearers: all close associates of the deceased: Avades Agelian, Manooq Tavittian, Angel Papillon, Stepan Mouradian, Geragos Garabedian, Sahak Dostourian.

Then followed the hearse with the seventh casket, attended by these bearers: Seraglan Gragorian, Megerdich Haleblian, Kregor Suerjian, Garabed Torosian and Sarkis Meserian.

Following the hearse came earriages containing the clergymen, and prominent Armenians of Boston, Worcester and elsewhere.

Then followed 200 Armenians of Milford and Hopkinton, on foot. At the cemetery Rev. Mr. Nazanian conducted the committal ritual of his church, near the close of which all of those present placed handfuls of dirt on the coffins.

Following the religious service came eulogies in Armenian by Attorney Vahan Kowichian of Boston, Maroder Hovannessian of Boston and Kavork Meherian of Caryville. Each speaker made grateful reference to the aid and sympathy extended by the communities of Milford and Hopkinton.

The floral tributes were profuse, mainly roses, lilies and other flowers in bouquets. The two principal gifts were immense bouquets from the Armenian Reformation committee of Milford and from Alexian American of Milford.

ACCIDENTS ON HOLIDAY

LITTLE BOSTON GIRL WAS BADLY BURNED WHILE PLAYING WITH FIREWORKS

BOSTON, June 18.—The Bunker Hill day celebration was marked by several accidents, none of which was fatal.

The most serious accident was at 7:10 last evening when Margaret Cushman, aged 10, 10 Main street, while playing with fireworks, was burned on the right side of her body, her right leg and right arm, her dress being ignited by a sparkler.

She ran from in front of the Waverley house at 5 City square with her dress ablaze.

Patrolman Butt Connolly tried to overtake her. She ran to a group of three men, one of whom, James Doherty of 12 Rutherford avenue, pulled the burning garments from her body. In doing so he burned both hands and feet.

Patrolman Connolly reached the child when Doherty was pulling off the burned clothing, and taking off his uniform coat wrapped it about the child, smothering the blaze. She was then removed to the Relief hospital in the police auto ambulance, where her burns were dressed by Dr. J. J. Murphy. Her condition is not considered serious.

At 1:30 yesterday afternoon John Matlock, aged two, of 123 Endicott street, while crossing City square on posts No. 18, fell, cutting his forehead. He was taken to the Relief hospital.

At 10:15 yesterday morning George

Larkin, aged 30, single, of 49 Cherry street, Chelsea, stepped from the sidewalk at the corner of Main and Franklin streets and was struck by auto truck No. 3187, owned by D. Whiting & Sons of 470 Rutherford avenue.

The truck was operated by John P. Bevis, aged 27, of 66 Backslider street, Roxbury.

Larkin was taken to the Relief hospital, attended by Dr. Jantzen, who found he had a contusion on the right hand and an abrasion on the forehead. He left the hospital after treatment.

At 1:32 yesterday afternoon John Keller, aged 16, of Concord street, Charlestown, stepped from behind a Bunker Hill car in front of an auto, numbered 7481, owned by the Boston Elevated railway, and operated by Supt. Arthur W. Senter of the 6th division.

Keller was knocked down. He was taken to the Relief hospital in the ambulance, where he was found to have received contusions on the left thigh and both legs. He was kept for treatment.

Early yesterday morning George Hampstead, aged 46, of 6 Liwood place, Charlestown, choked while eating pork chops in a restaurant. He fell from his stool to the floor and was taken to the Relief hospital in the police ambulance by Patrolman Pickett, who succeeded in removing the obstruction from Hampstead's throat. He was later locked up on a charge of drunkenness.

SUBJECT TO INCOME TAX

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Co-operative business, farmers mutual fire insurance companies and other similar co-operative institutions are subject to the income tax. A ruling to that effect was made yesterday by the treasury department.

FIVE ALARM FIRE

Three East Boston Lumber Yards Burning at Once

BOSTON, June 18.—Third and fourth alarms were sounded within 20 minutes after the first alarm was given at 12:25 yesterday morning from box 645 for a fire in the lumber yard of A. L. Snow, box manufacturers, at 406 Border street, East Boston.

So rapid was the spread of the flames through the yards, with their piles of lumber and combustible buildings, that before 1 o'clock the fifth alarm was given, calling apparatus from all parts of the city.

The fire started near the head of the wharf of the Boston Tow Boat company, close to the foot of West Eagle street, but the wind from the water carried the flames up the hill, away from Border street, and bore a cloud of sparks and pieces of burning wood for hundreds of yards, setting fresh fires where they landed.

By 1 o'clock it was known that the fire had spread into Drake's and Murray's yards, and was threatening the entire upper part of East Boston, in the vicinity of the Meridian street bridge. The location of the fire near the water front made it visible from a great distance, and the red blaze in the sky was seen for miles about and brought inquiries from all towns on the north of Boston.

NINE HORSES BURNED

BOSTON, June 18.—Fire caused damage of about $12,500 in this city yesterday. Of this amount $10,000 was caused when the plant of the Bay View Bottling company in South Boston was practically destroyed last night, suffocating nine horses and destroying 12 wagons.

At the carpet cleaning works of Craft & Co., 61 Hampshire street, Roxbury, early last evening fire caused damage estimated at $2000.

From midnight Tuesday to midnight Wednesday there were 35 calls to the fire department, of which two were still alarms. Of this total, three were false alarms, two needless alarms, 11 were sent in for fires of unknown cause, 10 were for gasoline and grass fires and five fires were the result of careless use of fireworks.

BUNKER HILL DAY PARADE

75,000 PEOPLE SAW PAGEANT IN BOSTON—NATIONAL SALUTE WAS FIRED

BOSTON, June 18.—Although celebrators numbered about 75,000 instead of 100,000 and attractions were correspondingly fewer than was the rule a decade ago, when the morning "Horribles" and evening electrical parade added much to the popularity of "Bunker Hill Day," yesterday's 13th celebration of the famous battle of Charlestown, was a successful, pleasing affair, in which perfect weather filled an important role.

For many years prior to the administration of the late Mayor Hibbard, the seventeenth of June Carnival association (composed of prominent citizens) very materially aided in making celebrations attractive. Assisted by liberal subscriptions of the people it worked in conjunction with the city.

Mr. Hibbard changed the long established program by naming a citizens' committee to serve with the city committee on celebration and since then the celebration has almost always been exclusively conducted by the city with appropriations growing less and less each year.

The anniversary was officially recognized yesterday by the United States

It's all out of fashion to suffer with a stung tongue or a parched throat. Because Prince Albert is scot-free from that sort of thing.

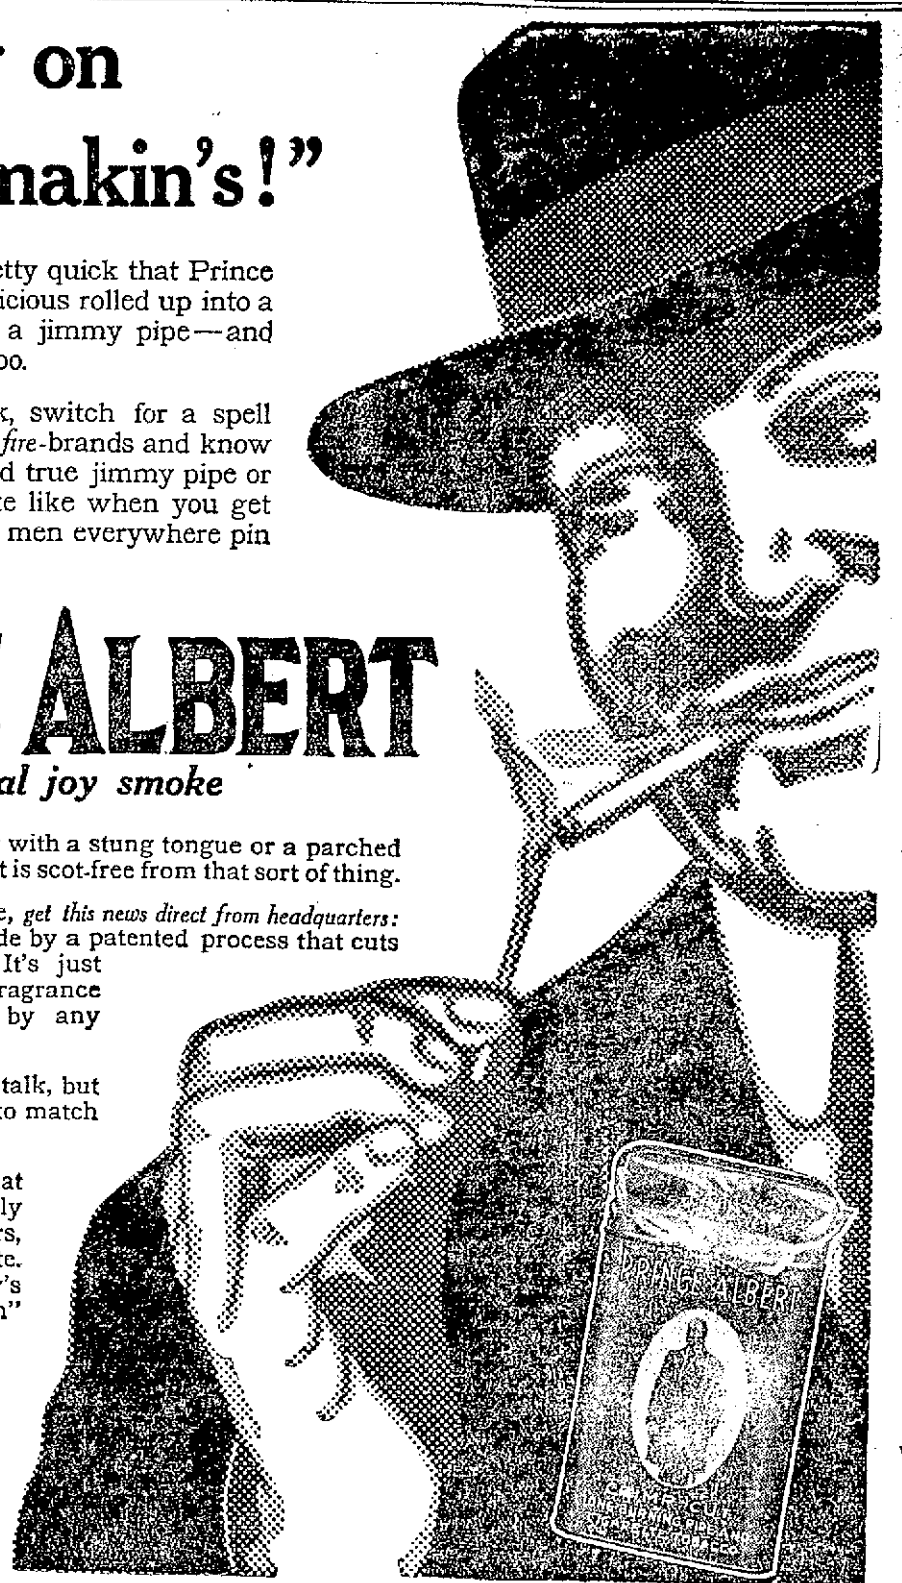

If you didn't know it before, get this news direct from headquarters: Prince Albert tobacco is made by a patented process that cuts out the bite and the parch. It's just all-good, with a flavor and a fragrance and freshness unequalled by any other brand at any price!

Men, that's some talk some talk, but it's right and it's up to you to match a dime against our say-so.

government which ordered the firing of the national salute of 21 guns by the navy yard battery at sunrise and permitted soldiers of the coast artillery corps and sailors of the navy to participate in the afternoon parade.

Bells of the district were rung at sunrise, noon and 5 p. m. The only amusement of the morning was to be found in the fater and country fair zone of the Sullivan square playground which was well patronized.

The police arrested a young man operating a "fortune arrow" in court he paid $50 for conducting a game of chance.

The big crowds began to invade the district at noon for the afternoon naval, military and civic parade which formed the principal event of the day. It is estimated that visitors numbered at least 50,000. Spectators were scattered over the route of the parade, which was liberally decorated with the national colors. Probably 30,000 viewed the procession in Monument, Sullivan and City squares.

The best of order prevailed and no serious accidents or fires were reported to the police, who were in charge of Capt. M. J. Goff and Lieut. Ringer of division 15.

WIFE PULLS GIRL'S HAIR

LAWRENCE WOMAN TESTIFIES TO ENCOUNTER WITH HUSBAND'S STENOGRAPHER

LAWRENCE, June 18.—Mrs. Dora Florence Dudley testified before Judge Dow of the Essex county probate court yesterday afternoon in support of her petition for a separate maintenance that her husband, Lewis B. Dudley, a well-to-do Haverhill shoe manufacturer, had lived in her home with her from Sept. 1, 1904, until 1911, when his manner changed completely and he became "cold and severe."

She said that he had been profane to her and had declared that he hated her and was sorry that he had ever met her. On various occasions he had assaulted her by throwing her around, she declared.

The name of Miss Anna Kaubach, a stenographer in the office of the L. H. Dudley company, figured in the case. Mrs. Dudley told of following her husband, who was driving his automobile, to an ice cream store where he had bought two packages of ice cream. Subsequently when she reached the office of the shoe company on Essex street, Miss Kaubach was eating ice cream.

The petitioner said that Miss Kaubach made a grimace at her and she retaliated by seizing the stenographer by the hair. Dudley restrained his wife and then took her to their home, where she later made an attempt at suicide by turning on the gas.

She finally left him April 13 last and has made her home with her sisters. Employees of the Dudley shoe company testified to having seen Dudley kiss Miss Kaubach. The hearing went over until 1, and meantime Judge Dow ordered temporary allowance of $12 a week for the petitioner.

KILLED IN CYCLE CRASH

LYNN MAN TRIED TO GO BETWEEN RIDERS—YOUNG SON THROWN OFF—ESCAPED SERIOUS INJURY

LYNN, June 18.—Thrown from a motorcycle when it crashed against an iron pole on the Revere turnpike last evening after collision with a bicycle, Frank Cirello, aged 40, of 765 Broadway, Revere, sustained injuries from which he died in an ambulance on the way to Lynn hospital.

His 9-year-old son, Angelo Cirello, who was also thrown from the motorcycle, and Fatsy Vincaro of 84 Bristol street, East Saugus, who was thrown from a bicycle, escaped serious injury. The Cirello boy, who was rendered unconscious, was revived before the hospital was reached, and unaware of the fate of his father, he kept calling for him continuously.

The doctors were unable to find that the boy had been hurt, but because of the fear of internal injuries he was kept under observation.

John Ferragamo of 84 Bristol street who was riding another bicycle with Vincaro, said that Cirello tried to steer the motorcycle between their bicycles. He misjudged the distance and the motorcycle ran into Vincaro's wheel, knocking him off. Cirello lost control of his machine, and it swerved sharply until it struck the iron pole.

Cirello was thrown some distance and struck the street car rail. His pelvis was fractured and internal injuries were sustained which caused internal hemorrhages. The boy landed close to his father. Ferragamo went to Cirello's aid, and when an automobile came along he stopped it and the father and son were lifted into the machine.

PROGRAM FOR OLYMPIC GAMES

PARIS, June 18.—The program of athletics for the Olympic games to be held in Berlin in 1916 was settled by the international Olympic congress yesterday afternoon when the events chosen by the congress of the international amateur federation in Berlin in August, 1913, were adopted.

BOSTON, June 18.—By taking advantage of the early errors of Yale's second baseman, Cornish, who handed out opportunities for three early runs, and then bunting his midway through the game against Pitcher Gile, the Harvard ball nine evened up its series with Yale on Soldiers Field yesterday afternoon, winning by 7 to 3, which forces the teams to a playoff Saturday at the Fenway park. Harvard had the steadiness yesterday that Yale displayed Tuesday on its home field, while the visitors were almost as far away from their habitual fielding game as were the Harvard men in the Yale Commencement opener.

Grinds His Own Flour

An old gentleman, Francis Harrison, of the Isle of Wight, wrote a letter to the newspapers (of England), saying he had ground wheat for thirty years in a little steel mill of his own and that his wife had done the baking. He was in his seventy-fifth year. He said this explains why my wife and I are so healthy.

"Where did you get that mill?" all England roared. "Good Lord!" he told the reporters. "I can't tell where I got it. Think I bought it somewhere in London, but it cost me more than two million ago. It was regarded as a fortune to me. I had no digestion, my hair was brittle, and I was cranky. Whole wheat flour soon put me to rights."

The Bread Reform League has taken the subject in hand, and the cry in England is not for meat, but for whole wheat bread!—Daily Record.

But you don't have to buy a mill and go to all the trouble of grinding your flour.

—ready to eat from the package, and delicious—you have a far more perfect food than bread.

In Grape-Nuts one has all the nutriment of whole wheat plus entire barley, including all the vital mineral phosphates of these grains, so essential for proper balance of body, brain and nerves.

Grape-Nuts, because of long skillful baking, digests easily and quickly—generally in about one hour; white bread requires about 3 1-2 hours.

A ration of Grape-Nuts with regular meals goes a long way toward putting one "to rights."

Morey got away to a good start in the first inning, striking out Dec and Carr, while Stewart made a pretty running catch of DeGroot's fly in deep left. Carroll tried to work King for a hit, but the Clingers' halt after the count was two and two on him. The young Lowell twirler, however, curved over and struck him out. Shorten walked and raced to third when Strands' fly fell safely between Burke, Simpson and Dec in short left field. Pottelger was safe on Matthews' error, Shorten scoring, and Strands' error to third. Strands scored when Pottelger attempted to go to second on the throw in. Pottelger being retired, he threw in to Burke, to Dec. Roes grounded out to Kelley unassisted.

Carroll took Simpson's foul fly in the second. Matthews singled to left center and took second on a passed ball. After Strands' foul, a passed ball gave the low Lowell catcher popped to Crooney. Kelley slapped a sharp single through the box and Matthews was thrown out at the plate by Pottelger's accurate throw and Carroll's throw to the ball. Stewart

The betting on the Johnson-Moran fight in Paris next Saturday is picking up. On account of Johnson's overweight Moran money is getting bigger every day. Johnson is still the big favorite, however, but the odds will probably decrease considerably before the battle. Moran's weight is given at 206 while at Johnson's camp they say the giant black weighs 220. Critics assert that Johnson looks much heavier.

The young clergyman celebrated his first mass in the chapel of the Grey Nuns of the Cross at Ottawa, and will spend the month of September in this city. Fr. Archambault is favorably known in Lowell, where he counts a host of friends who will be pleased to learn of his ordination.

FIND BLIND SINGER DEAD
MISS HELEN MESOW, FRIEND OF HELEN KELLER, WAS AN ACCOMPLISHED MUSICIAN

OAKLAND, Cal., June 18.—Miss Helen Mesow, a soprano singer, was found dead on a couch in her apartment here early yesterday. The cause of death has not been determined. Mr. Mesow was blind. A physician said that a spoon found in the bathroom smelled strongly of a quick-acting poison. On a table near the couch was a card bearing the name of W. C. Bohrmann, an Oakland real estate agent. The card contained this penciled message: "Helen, 6 p.m. I wanted you to come to dinner this evening, as it is our last night—W. C. B."

Mrs. J. Stepe of Melrose, an aunt of Bohrmann, said that she and Bohrmann, left the note at the apartment Sunday. Miss Mesow was educated in the California Institute for the Deaf and Blind and at the University of California. Afterward she pursued vocal studies in Paris. Besides being a musician she was a proficient linguist. She was about 30 years old and was a friend of Miss Helen Keller.
